EXPERIENCE

Gary Ewing's law school studies emphasized natural resources law. Years later, he could not help noticing that the Rocky Mountain region was experiencing an unprecedented energy boom, and he was viewing that boom from the sidelines. In February, 2008, he decided to join Beatty & Wozniak and apply his extensive title background to the needs of the oil and gas industry.

His title background includes several years in the title insurance industry, where he wrote more than $8 Billion in commercial real estate coverage.

He was in-house attorney with HomeSpace.com, which at one time was the fastest-growing mortgage company in America. He helped that firm develop an online mortgage origination and real estate referral system that was sold to LendingTree.com.

Other work experience involved real estate loan origination and closing, real estate compliance, the administration and sale of real estate assets, and litigation arising from real estate transactions.
